Drama Festival part of Culture@KEARSNEY

13 – 14 June 2023

Information:

Come together to Connect, Collaborate and Create.

Be a part of this exciting creative collaboration in which our young dramatists come together with their likeminded peers and are guided through the process of devising, producing and performing. Under the expert guidance of experienced theatre practitioners, they will learn the valuable skills of the collaborative play making process; skills that are the very foundation for dramatic collaboration.

This project gives our budding talent the opportunity to conceptualise, script, cast, direct, perform and see their ideas take shape on stage. Experiencing the response of a supportive audience, receiving constructive feedback from their facilitators and being rewarded with accolades or prizes rounds off this creative, collaborative connection.

Participants are invited to take part in a two-day theatre making experience conducted by a renowned South African theatre practitioner. Participants will work with students from different schools to workshop a piece of innovative and unique theatre. This creative collaboration will culminate in a showing of work on the final evening of the festival.

Specific details regarding times and number of participants will be communicated during the course of Term 1 2023.
